Dear Ion,

Your comments re evaporation from hydroelectric reservoirs.

We would like to express our thanks for your excellent comments regarding evaporation from hydroelectric reservoirs. We are preparing our submission to the World Water Council regarding a presentation of this issue in the upcoming World Water Development Report, and your input has been very helpful. The World Water Development Report (WWDR-3), which is due for publication in 2009, is a high level policy document, which is used by governments and policy makers around the world to form opinions, choose options and make decisions on the water sector.

Best regards,

Michael Fink
